Crafted to express time with flair, you'll be hard pressed not to strap on an automatic Tissot Swiss-Quartz men's watch that boldly flaunts a polished stainless steel case packed with appeal.

Built to stand the tests of time, the stainless steel bezel link bracelet is durable and includes a push button clasp to keep the watch securely in place while it graces your wrist.

You can also opt to own a Tissot watch equipped with a sleek black strap as well. The Tissot is the classiest of men's t-sport watches and features smooth analog ETA G10 Swiss-Quartz movement with reliable dial chronograph, date, hour, minute and second functionality.

Men with a discerning eye for design will appreciate the attractive scratch-resistant quartz that shields the black dial of the Tissot PRC200 men's watch. Weather storms, unexpected spills, or any other untimely events with a water-resistant feature that adequately protects Tissot automatic watches—even in up to 600 feet of water. Take a dip in the pool and swim at your leisure without any worry of causing damage.

Keep up with every hour of the day under varying conditions. Luminescent yellow markers on the chronograph subdials are a striking contrast against the stainless steel casing and are designed to show precise time right down to the last second.

When in areas where lighting is inadequate, bold white-tinted index markers display Arabic numerals at the 3, 9 and 12 o'clock positions for easy readability in any less than perfect setting. Should the need to measure speed be required, Tissot watches have a tachymeter on the outer dial that is second to none and handles this task with precision.

Swiss-Quartz Tissot watches are wildly popular in men's accessories and are often placed in the same class of luxury with stylish brands such as Citizen, Seiko, Casio, and Breitling. Built on excellence, this attractive timepiece can be worn in multiple situations and on various occasions.

Whether a collector or a savvy connoisseur, adding Tissot watches to your collection will prove to be a smart move. Gift-giving couldn't be any easier than with a Tissot. Surprise a special someone who is more than deserving of a watch that is just simply Haute.
